Dear Sir,

We had definite ideas as to how our beach house would look, and its relationship to the surroundings.

When the plans were accepted by Waipukurau Construction and the building began, we followed the progress daily. We were always involved in the decisions and were treated courteously by Kerry and the builders. They were friendly and seemed excited by building something a bit different from the usual. Altogether it was a very good client relationship and we are very happy with the end result. It is a great house to live in!

Yours sincerely,
D.F. & J.W. RICHARDS
